MAJORITY VOTERS OF NORTH VANCOUVER NOT ON LIST

Plane Hunts Renahan Plane Party Along B. C. Coast Two Planes Search In Northern B. C. For Burke Party

Continue Flights From Atlin After Failure Yesterday to Find Three Men Missing Since October 11; Renahan Party of Three Object of Search Along Inlets of British Columbia Coast.

Vancouver, Nov. 4.—With Ansel Ekman, of Seattle, fog-bound at Nanaimo on his attempted flight to Butedale, and Frank Dorbandt and E. L. Wasson back in Atlin after a futile flight to Liard River Post, the search for British Columbia's six missing airmen is continuing as rapidly as weather will permit.

Ekman, chief pilot of Alaska-Washington Airways, and two companions, started from Seattle when the weather cleared Monday afternoon, but were forced to land at Nanaimo after battling fog at Point-No-Point and over the Gulf of Georgia. They hope to continue to-day to Butedale to start a search of the coastline for "Pat" Renahan, Vancouver pilot, and two companions, who have been missing since Tuesday of last week, when they left here to join the Burke search from Atlin.

TWO PLANES SEARCHED
Dorbandt, Arctic airman, who has made several flights out of Atlin in the search for Capt. E. J. A. Burke, Vancouver pilot, and two companions, missing since October 11, was joined by Wasson of the Treadwell Yukon Exploration Co., Whitehorse, on Monday and the two flew over the Burke plane's course to Liard River Post. Unable to land at the post, they dropped messages inquiring about the Burke plane's exact movements and were answered with letters written on the snow which stated: "Burke left for Teslin October 11."

On their flight to and from the Liard River district the pilots and their companions experienced good visibility and could have seen any signal fire within a radius of fifty miles. They plan to take off again to-day to search farther north in the region of Wolf Lake.

Reports from Atlin state Burke and his two companions, Bob Martin, prospector, and Emil Kading, of Vancouver, air engineer, carried only thirty pounds of food and one sleeping bag. They had no snowshoes.

Renahan and his companions, Frank Hatcher, of Seattle, mechanic, and Sam Clift, prospector, were last reported at Butedale a week ago to-day. They left the fishing village at 2 p.m. that day intending to make Prince Rupert before dark. They carried food in emergency ration kits sufficient for nearly a month.

Ekman's plane is the latest type of Lockheed-Vega, with a cruising speed of 165 miles an hour and a top speed of 180 miles an hour.

NEW CONTROL OF THE GRAIN TRADE URGED
Manitoba Wheat Pool Considers Recommendation of Legislation For Exchanges

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Nov. 4.—A fight for legislative regulations to control grain and produce exchanges of the competitive private grain trade will be waged by the Manitoba Wheat Pool if a resolution to be submitted to the annual meeting in session here to-day, is endorsed.

Col. H. Burnell, president of the Manitoba Co-operative, told the members in session that a resolution supporting such a policy would be submitted at the meeting for approval. Mr. Burnell said the executive board believed it was justified in the "interest of farmers and for their protection, and as a matter of public policy."

TEST VOTE OF THE BRITISH HOUSE CLOSE

MacDonald Government Expected to Win Division By Small Margin
Majority of Liberals Will Not Vote; Left Wing Laborites Watched

London, Nov. 4.—Parliamentary elements dissatisfied with the government's efforts to allay critical unemployment conditions threatened to-day to turn out the MacDonald Ministry and force a general election.

Late this evening the House of Commons will vote on a Conservative amendment to the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne which expresses severe censure of government measures to relieve the jobless and provide occupations to lessen their steadily mounting numbers.

Although a government defeat would be easily possible, the best guess of lobby circles to-day seemed to be the Ministry would win by a small margin.

Sir Herbert Samuel of the Liberal Party general staff, yesterday announced the Liberal Party, which holds the Commons balance of power, would not oppose the government on the division, but he assailed the ministerial unemployment policy as weak and insufficient.

The detachment of twenty-five men from Regina is still on duty at the lakehead, where it was sent following Communist disorders.

FRENCH CHAMBER SITTING TO-DAY WAS SUSPENDED

Paris, Nov. 4.—The French parliament reconvened to-day for its winter session and soon afterward the sitting was suspended amid confusion as debate on opposition criticism of foreign policy got into its stride.

Ras Tafari, His Band and His Crown

Rescued Crew Views Ship As It Founders

San Francisco, Nov. 4.—Wireless reports from the steamship California to-day said the abandoned Japanese freighter Selyo Maru was drifting in a sinking condition and gave the crippled ship's position as 50.20 north, 117.20 east, or southwest of the Aleutian Islands.

The California also reported the rescue ship Shirana Maru was standing by the derelict.

NEWS AWAITED
Seattle, Nov. 4.—With the crew of forty men of the Japanese freighter Selyo Maru reported safe to-day, mystery still surrounded the fate of the ship, which at last reports was stated to be sinking slowly.

The vessel lost its rudder southwest of the Aleutian Islands Sunday and listed badly when the cargo shifted in a gale, reports said. The Shirana Maru, another Japanese steamship, drew alongside and took aboard the crew late Monday, radio reports from St. Paul, Alaska, to the naval radio station at Bremerton, Wash., said.

Whether the rescue ship was making for port or was standing by the Selyo Maru, reports did not say.

PREMIERS HONORED
London, Nov. 4.—In the old Guildhall, with its five centuries of stirring history, the Prime Ministers of Canada, Australia and New Zealand to-day became freemen of the City of London.

Premiers R. B. Bennett, J. H. Scullin and G. W. Forbes were declared in the ancient formula to be "men of good name and fame."

Failure of the sitting member for Parliament to aid development of Victoria as an air base by supporting the request for foreshore rights in inner harbor property was criticized by Alderman W. T. Straith at the City Council meeting yesterday evening.

DAME MELBA CRITICALLY ILL IN AUSTRALIA

On Physician's Advice She Remains Aboard Ship When It Touches Fremantle

Illness of Former World-famed Singer Commenced Four Days Ago at Sea

Fremantle, West Australia, Nov. 4.—Dame Nellie Melba, operatic soprano, who arrived here aboard the liner Cathay to-day, was so ill her physicians forbade her to land.

The prima donna, whose home is in Coldstream, Victoria State, had been indisposed for the last four days, it was said. She is seventy-one years old.

Dame Nellie Melba (Helen Porter Mitchell), was born in Richmond, near Melbourne, Australia, in 1869, and took the pseudonym of Melba after her debut as Gilda in "Rigoletto" in Brussels.

Her success as a vocalist was instantaneous. Her greatest success probably was in 1903, when she returned to Australia and sang before heads of the Colonial governments and immense audiences.

Her repertoire included leading French and Italian roles. Throughout her career she was the recipient of numerous gifts and decorations from sovereigns and others.

VICTORIA CAN NOW TELEPHONE TO AUSTRALIA
Longest Circuit Ever Organized Commenced Service To-day

Radio Links Carry Voice Between New York, London and Australia

Victoria can now talk to Australia. The commercial telephone service recently inaugurated between New York and Australia has been extended to include Victoria, the British Columbia Telephone Company announces.

The new circuit is the longest ever established for regular commercial telephony. A call from Victoria to Sydney, Australia, for example, would travel more than 17,500 miles. Two radio links are involved, one across the Atlantic and the other between England and Australia. The route to England is the same as the regular trans-Atlantic service—Victoria to Vancouver by submarine cable, to Seattle and New York by land lines, and then over to England by radio. A second radio link carries the voice from England to Australia.

Rates for calls from Victoria to any point in Australia are 85¢ for the first three minutes, $1.95 for each additional minute or fraction thereof, and a "re-port" charge of 55¢ if the party desired can not be reached by telephone. These rates are the same as those for the first Victoria-London telephone service, inaugurated on March 8, 1928. Present rates for calls to England are 42¢ for the first three minutes, $1.45 for each additional minute, and 35¢ report charge.

TAGGERS NEEDED FOR RED CROSS AND POPPY PLEA
Armistice Flowers Made By Veterans on Sale Saturday

Annual Appeal For Funds to Aid Needy War Veterans

Many taggers are urgently needed for Saturday, when Armistice poppies, made in the Red Cross workshop, will be sold in the streets of the city. These poppies, which commemorate the sacrifice made by the honored dead, provide profitable employment for disabled ex-soldiers and help to create a fund for the assistance of sick and needy veterans are offered to the public once a year on the eve of Armistice anniversary.

URGED TO STAND FOR RE-ELECTION IN VANCOUVER

MAYOR W. H. MALKIN

Vancouver, Nov. 4.—A petition signed by 1,000 citizens of Vancouver asking him to accept the nomination for mayor was handed to Mayor W. H. Malkin to-day by a delegation of eight.

The 1,000 signatories pledged their support in the event of Mayor Malkin's acceptance to his request and he promised he would make a definite declaration to-morrow.

The delegation included W. J. Blake, Wilson, Chris. Spencer, W. C. Woodward, O. E. Allen, Percy Bengough, Nicol Thompson and Lieut.-Col. A. T. McLean.

Brigadier-Generals V. W. Odium and H. F. McDonald also were present.

MINISTER OF MARINE HERE FROM OTTAWA
Hon. Alfred Duranleau Makes First Visit to City Since Taking Over Portfolio

Will Hear Delegations on Air Company's Application For Foreshore Rights

Hon. Alfred Duranleau, Federal Minister of Marine, arrived in Victoria from Ottawa by the afternoon boat to-day. The minister is making his first official visit to the coast since assuming his portfolio in the Bennett Cabinet.

Mr. Duranleau will take up departmental business while here and will meet Col. A. W. R. Wilby, Agent of Marine.

The dispute arising over the refusal of foreshore rights to the Pacific International Airways in the Inner Harbor will be taken up with the Minister during his visit here, as the matter comes within his jurisdiction.

The Minister will remain here until next Monday, when he will return to Vancouver to take up port questions. Mr. Duranleau is accompanied by his wife and daughter, and his private secretary, A. Lafamme and Mrs. Lafamme.

DO-X May Be Delayed By Storm
Altenrhein, Switzerland, Nov. 4.—A new storm apparently developing over Holland late to-day again threatened plans for to-morrow's hop off of the giant flying boat DO-X on the first lap of its trip to Ne York.

Voters Warned Against Last-hour Road Work Dodge

Meeting in Support of Ald. Bridgman, Liberal Candidate, Is Told of Toimie Government's Employment of Conservatives on New Works; Important Issues To Be Decided by Vote, Electors Are Reminded; Pattullo to Speak This Evening

VILLAGE IN LABRADOR IS SWEEPED BY FIRE

Report Awaited From Battle Harbor; Grenfell Hospital Believed Destroyed

Buildings of Fishing Company Also in Grip of Flames at Last Reports

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 4.—A disastrous fire is believed to have occurred at Battle Harbor, Labrador, where several buildings, including the Grenfell Hospital, were last reported to be burning out of control. Communication with Battle Harbor was cut yesterday evening.

The last message to come through said the wireless mast was in danger of destruction, although it was hoped to save the station. The firm of Baine Johnson, which has extensive fishing premises at Battle Harbor, was informed that its shop, office building, dwelling and Grenfell Hospital, all situated close together, were burning.

Further particulars were available here this afternoon. The steamer Sagona is rushing to the little settlement to give any assistance possible.

People of U.S. Choose New Congress To-day
CANDIDATES FOR ELECTION ARE LINED UP

With definite announcement already made by three aldermen, indications that all the retiring members of the City Council will seek re-election at the polls in December are forecast in The Times last week, are stronger.

Aldermen W. H. Cullin, H. O. Litchfield and E. S. Woodward have announced their intention of again seeking approval of the electorate, with a reservation by Alderman Woodward that he may not stand if he is absent from the city.

Aldermen James Adam and W. T. Straith have reserved their decisions, but it is generally understood they will run.

In discussing his candidature, Alderman Litchfield, who has been prominent in civic life for a long period, linked himself as a supporter of the loan by-law for developing the Willow exhibition buildings. Aldermen Litchfield, Cullin and Woodward have been the city's representatives on the B.C. Agricultural Association board this year.

Alderman Litchfield also expressed himself as deeply interested in redistribution of fire-fighting apparatus of the Victoria department. The agreement with the municipality of Oak Bay, under which the city would get additional equipment, had been approved, he pointed out, and it was now time to turn attention to the city's own needs.

20,000 CHILDREN SING AT TOKIO FOR CANADIAN TRADE TOURISTS

Tokio, Japan, Nov. 4.—Children of Japan to-day added their welcome to the demonstrations of friendship which have been given the trade delegation of the Canadian Chambers of Commerce since its arrival in this country. Twenty thousand children gathered in a natural amphitheatre here and sang choruses to the visiting Canadians. The scene was one of great beauty, and one of the most impressive events of the tour.

North Vancouver, Nov. 4.—North Vancouver will go to the polls to-morrow to choose a man to sit as its member of the Legislature, concluding one of the most lively by-election campaigns the Province has experienced in many years.

No little annoyance is being voiced to-day at the statement that several thousand residents are not on the voters' list. The total number entitled to vote is 6,044. At the last Federal election there were 9,500 on the list and 7,200 voted. At the last provincial election there were 7,600 on the list.

Hon. Rolf W. Bruhn, Premier Tolmie's new Minister of Public Works, who is to address a meeting this evening, got into harness promptly by putting 100 men to work on the Dollarton Road Monday morning, while several scores have already been put to work in West Vancouver slushing.

James Wilke, chairman of a big Liberal meeting held at Lynn Valley yesterday evening, declared that only known Conservatives had been employed on the Dollarton work, all others being rejected. This, he charged, was an unfair attempt to use Federal and provincial money for political purposes.

PATTULLO TO SPEAK
Alderman E. H. Bridgman, Liberal candidate, will speak at two meetings this evening—one in the K. of P. Hall and another in the Hollywood Theatre, supported by T. D. Pattullo, B.C. Liberal leader, Hon. Ian Macdonald, M.P., and George S. Pearson, M.P., for Nanaimo.

Results, With Two Years of Hoover's Term Still to Run, Watched With Greatest Interest

By KEN CLARK
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent
New York, Nov. 4.—As the people of the United States went to the polls to-day to elect their seventy-second Congress, the question as to whether the Republicans would maintain control of the House of Representatives grew. On the basis of rival claims it could be maintained with some confidence the Democrats would take from the Republicans the necessary fifty-four seats and rule the House for the next two years, if the presidential election year. Democratic headquarters in Washington made a last-minute prediction of a gain of sixty-five seats. Republican headquarters admitted some seats would be lost by the Grand Old Party, but insisted the Republicans would emerge to-night with a majority of half a dozen representatives.

Observers were generally agreed the result could not be forecast with any surety for the reason that during the campaign the voters showed a mixture of apathy and silliness. They would not say how they were going to vote. Democrats have assumed this argued dissatisfaction with the Republican government. The attitude of the electorate no doubt partly reflects its disappointment over the fact that things are not going as well as was expected when Herbert Hoover and a Republican Congress went into power in 1928. But it may be largely attributed to the lack of any general feeling of national issue. Aside from the record of the Hoover administration in economically stressful times, prohibition is the most talked-of matter and that subject divides both Democrats and Republicans.

FIRST RETURNS
Results began to trickle in early this morning from eastern districts of small population. The first to report was New Ashford, Mass. In the sensational contest there, William M. Butler, President Hoover's campaign manager in 1928, defeated Marcus A. Coolidge, no relation to the former President, and a Democrat, twenty-nine votes to four. There are only thirty-six voters in Ashford and they cast their ballots virtually at dawn.

Returns from the east and the middle west should be pretty well established early this evening but the far western results will be late. A forecast of general results is being made by the country's largest wire.

INDUSTRIAL GROWTH HERE OL JAPAN

Nipponese Hear Mission Spokesman Describe Dominion's Advance

Canadian Press

Tokyo, Japan, Nov. 4.—Canada's growth into a great manufacturing country was described by R. E. Thorne of Montreal in an address to-day at a luncheon given by prominent Japanese in honor of the trade mission of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

In 1870 the value of Canadian manufacturing was $21,000,000. Mr. Thorne said. In 1928, the latest year for which complete statistics were available, it was $3,770,000,000. The capital invested in more than 23,000 establishments was $4,780,000 and the number of employees 633,000.

Going back to the cradle of Canadian industry, Mr. Thorne said the first agricultural process to be carried on by Europeans in what is now the Dominion of Canada was the raising of a crop of grain at Port Royal, Nova Scotia, in 1605. The first manufacturing industry was the grinding of grain in the autumn of the year 1606.

The present century had witnessed the chief forward movement in Canadian manufacturing, the result of two great industries: first, the "boom" accompanying the opening of the Canadian west; and, second, the Great War, which not only created enormous demands, but left a permanent imprint on the industry and efficiency of Canadian plants.

At present Canada ranked as the third largest producer of electrical energy in the world, Mr. Thorne said, following the United States and Germany. Investment in that industry in Canada now amounted to about $1,000,000,000.

SAYS MEMBER FAILED TO AID ON AIR BASE

Ald. H. O. Litchfield agreed with the industrial committee chairman that the city should have control of the harbor rights in this connection. He also asked if the feasibility of Elk Lake as a seaplane base site had been considered.

Ald. Straith replied that owing to a bank at one end of the lake and trees at the other, Elk Lake was not regarded as a logical site, although it was possible.

The communication from the Chamber of Commerce was referred to the industrial committee.

It was not believed generally either the Liberals or Conservatives wished a general election just now, when party treasuries are nearly empty, the London Round Table Conference on India is approaching and the Conservatives are beset with the dissenting Empire free trade and United Empire movements within the party itself.

The attitude of the Liberal party toward the government is arousing considerable speculation. The London Daily Herald, Labor organ, to-day said the Liberals were moving toward alignment with the Conservatives and subjecting the ministerialists to the maximum amount of pin-pricks as a preliminary to striking a fatal blow at an appropriate moment.

LOYD GEORGE'S PLAN

Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, Liberal leader, closed his speech at the London Round Table Conference on India by first broad project, to furnish jobs through intensive public construction, was discussed during the campaign which preceded the last general election. The new scheme provides principally for:

First, reduction of production costs to equalize British goods with those of foreign countries. Another object is to obtain ten per cent. second, covering stimulation of new enterprises and industries to absorb those thrown out of work by rationalization of older industries; fourth, accelerated program of construction.

He claims the Liberal plan would reduce the unemployed total by 1,000,000 during the next twelve months.

CHURCHILL'S OPINION

Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, one of the Conservative leaders, in a speech at Waltham Abbey expressed the opinion a new general election would bring no great changes in parties, but would leave us a much longer spell of deadlock and uncertainty. Another parliament, as futile and as hopeless as this one would be with us.

DEBATE DISAPPOINTMENT

By Thomas T. Champion, Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, Nov. 4.—The debate itself was disappointing. The London Times to-day commented on the opening of Parliament yesterday of debate on the Conservative amendment to the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne scheduled to end in a division this evening. "Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain hit hard enough, but he cut his explanation of his own policy too short to please his audience," The Times added.

The same note of dissatisfaction appeared in other Conservative newspapers. The London Daily Telegraph declared Chamberlain's strictly protectionist speech must be regarded as a triumph of straightforwardness over mere tactics. "If he had confined himself to attacking the government it would have been a victory for the Liberals not to vote for the amendment," The Telegraph added.

"The result must have had a great influence with the Liberals in their decision to abstain from voting in the division to-night."

NEW YEAR TESTS

London, Nov. 4.—Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, Liberal leader, declared when debate was resumed in the House of Commons this afternoon that he would not support the Conservative amendment to the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne because it was a protectionist amendment. He was also proud to wait and see the effect of Liberal and Labor co-operation on the problem of unemployment.

The Liberal leader, however, criticized the government for its inaction as regarded unemployment.

For the wind-up of the campaign of Ald. J. Loutet, Conservative candidate, in the House of Commons this afternoon, and J. H. Beatty, Victoria Conservative M.P., who made the Conservative case for the government.

NATIVES GORGE AT BIG FEAST GIVEN BY KING

Abyssinians Return Home After Banquet Following Emperor's Coronation

By James A. Mills, Associated Press Staff Correspondent

Addis Ababa, Abyssinia, Nov. 4.—Thousands of dusky faced Abyssinians, returning to-day to their homes in the African bush, boasted of having seen the Emperor, Haile Selassie I, Lord King of Kings of Ethiopia.

It was the Emperor's wish that even the humblest of his subjects should share the joys of his coronation, and he had planned to the most minute detail a banquet which would delight the Abyssinians' heart and pick up their spirits.

Some traveled for a full three weeks over pathless wastes and cow trails for the privilege of eating with their sovereign.

The guests assembled in a large banquet hall, and feasted on a white "shama" or "shama". The ocean of black upturned faces, gazing in awe at the Emperor, who is known to them also as the Ras of Ras, Conquering Lion of the Tribe of Judah, the Elect of God and the Lord of the World, left a vivid and not-to-be-forgotten impression on foreign visitors.

NATIVE HAND

As the assembled thousands ate chunks of dripping red meat, groups of native musicians with long wooden trumpets and hide drums, played "white shama" or "shama". The African melodies, unlimited quantities of native wine were furnished as an indispensable part of the festival.

The banquet pavilion was not large enough to accommodate all those who wished to enter and other thousands of natives clamored outside the gates. Finally their impatience to be at the feast became so great they attempted to force the portals and tribal police were sent to keep them back. Fighting unmercifully with whips. The punishment made the stampede worse. In the end food was brought and not one went hungry.

BY-LAW PROPOSALS

Another matter discussed with Mr. Loughheed yesterday afternoon was the proposal to make grants from unemployment funds toward Vancouver by-law money if the ratepayers should endorse the several measures to be presented to them December 10.

"Mr. Loughheed was non-committal on that point," declared the mayor, "and will discuss it with Premier Tominie in Victoria."

Results from New York, Illinois, Alabama, Pennsylvania, Michigan and Montana will be watched with interest for a variety of reasons.

ROOSEVELT'S CONTEST

In New York Franklin D. Roosevelt, looked on by the Democrats as presidential candidate for 1932, seeks to retain his job as Governor of the Empire State.

In Illinois Ruth Hanna McCormick is standing for the Senate. If she wins she will be the first regularly elected woman senator in the United States.

Alabama, notoriously Democratic, is said to be the first regularly elected woman senator in the United States.

Michigan, notoriously Democratic, is said to be the first regularly elected woman senator in the United States.

Montana, notoriously Democratic, is said to be the first regularly elected woman senator in the United States.

WHAT VOTERS ARE DOING

Washington, Nov. 4.—In the off-year elections in the United States to-day, thirty-one senators are being chosen for six-year terms, beginning next March 4. Maine having settled the question as to its new full term senator in September.

The states deciding to-day are: Alabama, Arkansas, Colorado, Delaware, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, West Virginia, and Wyoming.

Maine in September returned a Republican. Of the other full term states, eighteen have been held by Republicans and thirteen by Democrats.

Three states, Kansas, Ohio and Pennsylvania, are electing senators for terms which end March 3, 1933. Each of these seats has been held by a Republican.

Five states are voting on senators to fill terms ending next March, namely: Delaware, Kentucky, New Jersey, Tennessee and Wyoming. Four of these have been held by Republicans and one, Tennessee, by a Democrat.

The Senate of late has comprised fifty-six Republicans, thirty-nine Democrats and one Farmer-Labor senator. Forty-nine constitutes a majority.

NEW HOUSE

The entire House of Representatives is being elected for the two-year term beginning March 4, 1931. Of the 435 seats, 200 have been held by Republicans, 160 Democrats and one Farmer-Labor with fourteen vacancies. Nine of the vacant seats were Republican and five Democrat. A house majority is 218. To get control there, Democrats must gain fifty-eight votes.

The thirty-two states electing congressmen, twenty-one having had Republican and eleven Democratic incumbents in the last term, are: Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Georgia, Idaho, Kansas, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Mexico, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Vermont, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

Maine returned a Republican in the election in September, would be paid compensation to per-

Vancouver Asks B.C. For More Relief Aid

Mayor Malkin Expresses Opinion Province May Have to Request Federal Government to Advance More Money

Canadian Press

Vancouver, Nov. 4.—The Provincial Government's appropriation for unemployment relief is being rapidly reduced by the demands of municipalities, and if the present situation in Vancouver continues, further assistance may have to be obtained from the Federal authorities.

This is the opinion of Mayor W. H. Malkin, as expressed following a conference with Hon. N. S. Loughheed, Minister of Lands, who, before the recent Cabinet reorganization was Minister of Public Works.

"Judging from the situation in Vancouver," declared the mayor, "the $200,000 grant made by the Dominion to the Province seems much short of our needs. Vancouver is able for unemployment relief so far as has been granted, but that is entirely inadequate."

"If present conditions continue—and from signs they are rapidly becoming worse—it seems as if the Province may be unable to carry the burden of the relief fund. I do not know if anything remains in the Federal fund. If not, the Federal authorities may have to turn to the Province for appropriation."

"A delegation from the Vancouver Council will go to Victoria Wednesday night with revised figures on the relief situation, and we will point out that the Province is unable to carry the burden which by right should be on the shoulders of the Province. As the weather becomes colder, more men drift into Vancouver, and it is not right that this should be added with the additional load."

The mayor declared that if the Province had not sufficient funds in its unemployment relief appropriation, it would have to arrange to divert some of the direct relief fund to this city. The work is carried on in a warm well ventilated shop; the materials are light and easily handled, and there is no cause for strenuous exertion of any kind. The poppy, which commemorates the dead, is one of the greatest mediums for helping the living war veterans to carry the burden of war.

TWELFTH ANNIVERSARY

"At this twelfth anniversary of Armistice the need for help is greater than at any time since the war ended," says one of the organizers of the drive. "Veterans are falling by the wayside continually. Many are dying, unable to maintain the struggle for existence against overwhelming odds."

"The Red Cross Society, which is allied with the Armistice period committee in the appeal for funds, will continue to continue its great peace-time, humanitarian work unless funds are forthcoming."

"Helpers are required for the canvases for subscriptions, and all members of the public are urged to contribute to the fund. The ability of the campaign committee appears for the same support which citizens gave during the war years when the slogan, 'Give until it hurts' was the recognized measure of help."

Cheques should be sent to the headquarters of the drive, 317 Belmont House, or left at campaign headquarters, 620 Fort Street.

The subscription list to date, which has reached only twenty per cent of the required amount, follows:

Auto Accident Liability Insurance Plan Is Approved

Vancouver, Nov. 4.—By a vote of six to five, the Vancouver City Council to-day rejected Ald. J. J. McKee's suggestion that the Provincial Government be asked to establish a fund for compensation to persons injured through the fault of automobile drivers.

Instead, the committee adopted an amendment proposed by Ald. E. N. Fraser, endorsing the plan of the Union of B.C. Municipalities for enactment of legislation providing for compulsory automobile accident liability insurance. The resolution of the Union of Municipalities was based on the Ontario act, covering responsibility for automobile accidents, and Ald. Fraser expressed the opinion it was preferable for the city to act with the Union rather than propose a different method of dealing with the situation.

CONFERENCE ON DISARMAMENT IS URGED FOR 1931

Berlin, Nov. 4.—So far as Germany is concerned, the session of the Preparatory Disarmament Commission scheduled to start at Geneva November 6 is likely to be the last one.

Count Von Bernstorff and the German delegation, who left here to-day, are under instructions to bend every effort to have the Preparatory Commission give way to a full conference of the powers some time in 1931 to tackle disarmament.

"We aim at getting a date fixed some time in 1931 for a world disarmament conference irrespective of what reports may be drawn up at the coming Geneva session," said a Foreign Office spokesman.

TAGGERS NEEDED FOR RED CROSS AND POPPY PLEA

next Armistice anniversary comes round.

For this reason the committee is concentrating every effort to secure a sum which will be adequate to meet all calls which will be made on the Armistice period committee.

The four ladies, who will each have charge of a quarter section of the city on Saturday, need many taggers to cover every corner and provide necessary reliefs to keep the posts filled all day. Volunteers are requested to telephone one of the following without delay: Mrs. W. McManus, Catholic Women's League, E 2118; Mrs. E. Alcock, Army and Navy Veterans Auxiliary, Colquhoun 190; Mrs. W. ## Kingsford-Smith Ashes Scattered

Sydney, N.S.W., Nov. 4.—Wing-Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith, using the plane aboard which he made his last memorable flight from England to Australia, to-day scattered the ashes of his father over the waters of the Pacific Ocean, which witnessed the younger man's notable triumph in the air.

On his deathbed last week William Kingsford-Smith, father of the aviator, expressed a wish that his ashes be cast to the winds over the Pacific, and his famous son thus to-day performed his last sad duty to his dead sire.
The elder Kingsford-Smith died last Sunday. The cremation took place yesterday.

DOG CAUSES DEATHS

Newark, N.J., Nov. 4.—A pet poodle yesterday caused the deaths of three members of a family by gas poisoning. The bodies of Michael Moore, fifty-six; his wife, Katherine, fifty-five, and their daughter, Mary, seventeen, were found in their apartment. In the kitchen was the body of the dog, which had gnawed a rubber hose from a gas heater.

NAVAL DISCUSSIONS

London, Nov. 4.—Premier Ramsay MacDonald said in House of Commons yesterday that informal negotiations had taken place between France and Italy since adjournment of the London Naval Conference. He said he understood no agreement had yet been reached on their naval construction programmes up to 1936.

DEPORTATIONS ARE DEBATED

Toronto, Nov. 4.—Addressing members of the Northeast Toronto Conservative Association here yesterday evening, Hon. L. M. Macaulay, Provincial Secretary, speaking on the subject of three women recently deported from Ontario to England on account of epilepsy, said: "When people are in Canada as long as those to whose cases our attention has recently been drawn I think the letter of the law might and should give way to humanity."

WINNIPEG PROTEST

Winnipeg, Nov. 4.—Protest against deportation of three women to England as epileptics after many years' residence in Canada was expressed yesterday evening at a meeting of the Winnipeg Empire Club. A resolution asking the Federal Government guard against repetition of such cases was ordered forwarded to Premier R. B. Bennett and Winnipeg members of the House of Commons.

WAILING WALL REPORT READY

Stockholm, Nov. 4.—The Jewish Telegraphic Agency learned yesterday the deliberations of the International Wailing Wall Commission, which investigated the Moslem and Jewish claims to the ancient shrine in Jerusalem, had been concluded and the report probably will be in the hands of the British Government some time this month.
The report is to be kept secret until it is submitted to the British Government for forwarding to the League of Nations. The commission met in secret in the offices of the Swedish Foreign Office, where it formulated its conclusions after considering the vast amount of material and hearing many views.

BROKERS JAILED FOR FRAUD ABLE TO PAY CLIENTS

Toronto, Nov. 4.—A statement was issued here yesterday evening by J. Earl Lawson, counsel for James Heppleston and William Schutt, local stock brokers who were committed to jail yesterday to await sentence after pleading guilty in the assize court to a charge of conspiracy to defraud the public, concerning the future policy of the brokerage firm of which they were members.
The statement said: "Mr. Heppleston and Mr. Schutt expected to-day a complete power of attorney to turn back all their business. It is impossible for me at this time to state whether or not the business will be liquidated. I have obtained from the auditors a statement of the company's financial position. From which I am satisfied the firm is solvent, and all customer's securities are available for delivery to them if they request them on payment of the balance due on such securities."

NAVAL DISCUSSION

Toronto, Nov. 4.—A suggestion Canada would do well to develop her own navy or else evolve some system of contributing to the naval defence of herself and the rest of the Empire was given at a Toronto Canadian Club luncheon yesterday by Commander G. B. Spicer-Simson, formerly an officer in the British Navy.

TORONTO CIVIC SALARY GRAB INVESTIGATED

Judge Trying to Discover Who Among City Council Members Started Move

Toronto, Nov. 4.—Further light was being shed to-day on the origin and authorship of what has become familiarly known as the "salary grab" by members of the Toronto city council at Judge J. H. Denton's inquiry into activities of members of the civic administration prior to the formulation of a bill passed by the Ontario Legislature which authorized the increase.

The sessions yesterday were marked by conflicting testimony on the part of Mayor Bert S. Wemp and Controller Claude Pearce as to who had asked City Solicitor C. M. Colquhoun to draw up the "grab" bill to be brought before the legislature.
The Mayor denied he had taken any part in the discussion of salary increases at the much talked of conference in his office February 19, and maintained the meeting was entirely between Sam Wright, M.P.P., for Toronto-Dovercourt and Controller Pearce.

In contrast, Controller Pearce declared the Mayor had played a definite part in the movement for higher salaries from the time it started. He said it was Mayor Wemp who, complaining at the major party of his salary being needed for election purposes, had first opened the question of salaries during a discussion of the city estimates early in February.

FINDS THROW LIGHT ON OLD INDIAN TRIBES

Ottawa, Nov. 4.—Excavations on the site of an old Indian village twelve miles south of Brantford, Ont., have yielded a store of relics which enrich considerably the existing collection in possession of the National Museum here and at the same time make a contribution of no small importance to what is known of the aboriginal inhabitants of this country before the coming of the white man. W. J. Wintemberg, assistant archaeologist of the Department of Mines, returning to Ottawa, has brought to light the centuries-old residue of a long-forgotten people during the course of nearly one month's work in the neighborhood of Brantford.

The relics, comprising fifty-one boxes, range from fragments of pottery to arrowheads and bone awls, and have disclosed to the research workers many elements of pre-European culture on this continent and have also aided the task of piecing together the few scraps of knowledge the investigators possess in regard to an early race of Indians, the Attitendronks.

Mr. Wintemberg, who has had a lifetime of experience in delving into the little-known past of Canada's prehistoric inhabitants, inclines to the theory the Attitendronks were the common origin of the Hurons, on the one hand, and their hereditary enemies, the Senecas, Onondagas, Mohawks, Iroquois and Cayugas on the other.
Some years ago he excavated a site in Oxford County, Ontario, and established the earliest period of primitive Indian culture had existed there. A later site, four miles north of London, Ont., yielded evidences of late pre-European culture. The site examined some weeks ago near Brantford connects the two and is explained by Mr. Wintemberg as the middle period. Its age he estimates at 600 years.
Pottery or primitive workmanship, but containing characteristic designs, is the most valuable of the objects discovered.
Mr. Wintemberg has pursued his investigations in early Indian history throughout eastern Canada, in Newfoundland and Labrador. His field will extend next year to British Columbia.

AUSTRIAN ROYALTY LIVES IN ENGLAND

After renouncing his claim to the Hungarian throne for the love of the Archduchess Albrecht, pictured above, the Archduke, below, has taken his bride to England, where they will make their home. They were married in England recently, and Albrecht, only son of Archduke Friedrich, who commanded the Austrian army in the World War, is the Archduchess' third husband.

PREMIUMS LEAD TO BATTLE OF TOBACCO FIRMS

Imperial Tobacco Company and U.S.-owned Concern Fight in Britain

London, Nov. 4.—Half a million British tobaccoists are feeling the brunt of a trade war between the gigantic Imperial Tobacco Company and a group of independents led by a United States-owned firm.
The United States firm, which came into the field in this country about a year ago, began offering premiums with its cigarettes through the coupon system. Other independent manufacturers soon did likewise and soon the coupon cigarettes began to enjoy greatly increased sales. Even cigar manufacturers fell into line. The Imperial Tobacco Company has declared war on coupon premiums.

The British company previously had initiated a system of "bonus" arrangements with the individual shopkeepers which is estimated to include almost twenty-five per cent of the British retailers. Under this bonus arrangement, the Imperial Tobacco Company returns approximately 1.25 per cent of each retailer's gross sales in addition to decorating his shop windows every six weeks.
Many shopkeepers also displayed premiums which could be secured in exchange for the coupons. These gifts range from razor blades to costlier items necessitating saving of thousands of coupons.

R. J. Sinclair, secretary of the Imperial group, in letters to thousands of tobaccoists, has warned that exhibition of premiums given by rival companies will be interpreted as contrary to the spirit of the Imperial Tobacco Company's individual bonus contracts. This is interpreted as meaning that if the tobaccoists continue to display their competitors' gifts, the Imperial Tobacco Company will stop paying them the bonus.
Hence, while 458,171 dealers sit watching the struggle, literally between the devil and the deep sea, the giant boards of strategy continue to marshal their regiments of pounds sterling for the crucial struggle for leadership.

Premier Scullin Dissatisfied With Labor Party's Attitude on Retrenchment Proposals

Canadian Press-Cable via Reuter's Sydney, Australia, Nov. 4.—Decisions reached at a caucus of the Federal Labor Party last week having aroused intense dissatisfaction in the mind of Premier James Scullin, the Prime Minister, now at the Imperial Conference in London, has cabled an expression of his feelings to the acting government heads.
According to the Sydney Sun, the Prime Minister indicated he felt very keenly the failure of the caucus to agree on the policy of retrenchment which would enable the Prime Minister to carry out the undertaking he gave at the Labor Party conference of premiers.

PARK AND OCEAN HIGHWAY

THE SITE OF ANY PARK TO BE DEVELOPED by the Dominion government on Vancouver Island will be chosen from the various available localities by the national parks board at Ottawa, not by island boards of trade. The officials who administer the national parks are more competent to make this choice than anybody else, for that is among the duties of their office, and their record in this respect up to this time is unsurpassed by that of any other parks board in the world. Whether they select a site north or south of Barkley Sound, it may be taken for granted that they will be guided by their own expert knowledge and long experience, not by the views of Victoria, Nanaimo or any other local community. Neither will political considerations influence them, since their board has necessarily been kept strictly out of politics, and out of the same necessity will remain so. Certainly the Dominion government will not develop two parks on Vancouver Island, and if it should take over Strathcona Park, it would have a big enough job developing that area and any contiguous section it might consider desirable to add to it, without engaging in park development elsewhere.

In the opinion of The Times the matter of a site for a national park is a secondary consideration in the larger question of roadway development along the West Coast. Highway construction on this island for many years should be undertaken mainly for the purpose of opening up districts not now accessible by roads, to promote settlement and industry and generally to improve social and economic conditions in precisely the same way that highway construction has promoted the development of the east coast of the island. The case for the construction of the West Coast Road would be just as strong in these circumstances if there were no possibility of a park being established.

Whatever other highway communications with the West Coast may be projected, the construction of the road from Victoria to Banfield is inevitable. It is already under way and the work must be continued. Any assumption that this city and surrounding districts, which pay three-fourths of the taxes that flow into the provincial treasury from the island, and whose population exceeds sixty per cent of the total island population, can remain out of this West Coast picture, is utterly nonsensical. Incidentally, this project is not, and never was, intended to divert attention from, or prejudice the construction of, any other highway needed on the island, whether to the West Coast or in any other direction. Nor is there any dispute of the desirability of other roads; as a matter of fact, enough motor and gasoline taxation alone is received by the government from Vancouver Island to finance all the major highway projects recommended in this part of the province.

Finally, the fact that the present government is committed to the completion of the West Coast Road, the Premier and the Minister of Public Works, that it was part of the policy of the former government, seems either to be overlooked or regarded with indifference by some interests which, through devious means, are conducting propaganda against the scheme in an attempt to isolate Victoria from this connection with the West Coast and the business possibilities which should arise from the development of that section.

THE CONGRESSIONAL ELECTIONS

CONGRESSIONAL ELECTIONS IN THE United States take place every two years. To-day's contest is for the purpose of electing an entirely new House of Representatives, composed of 435 members; one-third, or thirty-two, members of the Senate; governors in thirty-two states; and hundreds of lesser officials all over the country.

Under the United States constitution "a Congress" continues for two years; as, for example, in the present case, from noon, March 4, 1929, until noon, March 4, 1931, at which latter time the term of Representatives to the seventy-first Congress will expire, and the term of the new House of Representatives being elected to-day will begin. At the same time the period of office of one-third of the ninety-six Senators—two from each of the forty-eight states—will expire, Senators being elected for six years, with one-third retiring every second year.

The seventy-first Congress, when it took office in March, 1929, was constituted as follows: Senate: fifty-four Republicans; thirty-nine Democrats; one Farmer-Labor; one vacant, and one not sworn; House of Representatives: 268 Republicans, 165 Democrats, one Farmer-Labor, and one vacant.

A good deal of speculation as to the composition of the next Congress has been indulged in. The three principal issues are business depression, the liquor controversy, and the tariff, with many minor questions not overlooked. The Republican party managers are expecting to lose a number of seats; but hope to control both Houses. The Democrats fully expect to dominate the Senate through gains at the polls and with the assistance of the insurgent Republican bloc. Some are even optimistic enough to look for the necessary gains to give them a majority in the lower chamber.

Canada is naturally interested in the election. We have seen how our neighbor's tariff policies involve us.

BRAZIL BACK TO NORMAL

WHATEVER MAY HAVE BEEN THE real cause of the revolution in Brazil—the depressed state of the coffee market, the effect upon the country of the world-wide economic depression, or the supposedly fraudulent elections—the fact charged yesterday that the country has more or less assumed a normal condition after one month of bitter civil war. Dr. Getulio Vargas is in control of affairs as provisional President.

When the revolt was in its early stages it was thought—at least dispatches to the outside world conveyed the impression—that the conflict would be short-lived, not because of an early victory for the insurgent forces, but because the government was in a position to organize its defence with sufficient effectiveness to reduce its belligerent critics to subjection. Events, however, moved quickly, with both sides alternately claiming progress and sectional victories, until high officers of the army and navy in the capital itself caused the arrest of President Washington Luis and his leading supporters, while President-elect Prestes, who was to have taken office on November 15, made himself scarce and who still, by the way, is a refugee in the British consulate.

The political aspect of the situation now is being made clearer by the Liberal opposition. Its influential members assert that Dr. Vargas, who opposed Prestes, was the victim of a flagrant manipulation of ballots, that many votes polled for him were not counted at all. This conviction apparently quickly gained force among the people and the spirit of rebellion grew until it took the form of armed revolt, in which, obviously, organizing ability overlooked very little. For a revolution in a country like Brazil, with an area very nearly as big as Canada and a population of 42,000,000, to be brought to such a speedy conclusion with a comparatively small loss of life, is strikingly significant in itself.

Very probably it will take a few weeks for the country to get over its economic and social disturbance. But the remarkable feature of the revolution is the fact that it does not appear to have left any manifestation of extremism in its wake. Some communists, it is true, caused trouble; but there is every indication that with the resumption of normal banking and other services, such disruptive elements as may feel inclined to indulge their mischief-making ardor will not find it either profitable or comfortable. Indeed, if the last elections were marked by such malpractices as supporters of the new President claim they were, the turnover may result in the purification of the country's political life and, incidentally, strengthen the protection for the vast amount of foreign capital—in which Canada figures substantially—which is invested in Brazil.

A GOOD SPORTSMAN

PERHAPS IT WAS BECAUSE HE WAS such a good sportsman and accomplished in so many sports that the late Harry Payne Whitney—his life and personality—appealed to many people who knew him for these things as well as for his benefactions. It can be said of him that he was both gallant and skilled in the realm of out-door recreation in its varied forms, and he did much to raise the status and standards of American polo, yachting and racing. Outstanding ability and integrity in business were characteristics which marked his very substantial activities in Wall Street.

Socially, one admirer says, Mr. Whitney's sense of responsibility to his country's less fortunate citizens was deep, to which his generous contributions to charity bear witness. It is all the more tragic that the life of one endowed with so many fine qualities of heart and mind, so adequately able and ready at all times to indulge them, had to come to an end at the comparatively youthful age of fifty-eight.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

THE TRUTH OF IT
The Border Cities Star

Well, here we are at the end of the second week in October and the score stands as follows: Those who assure us it will be an open winter, 11,492; the cold, hard winter boys, 41,327. The rest of us know damned well what it'll be—the same as usual, only better or worse.

WIRE NEW SCHOOLS FOR RADIO?
The Edmonton Journal

Professor Augustin Prigon, a member of the Aird Radio Commission which has investigated broadcasting in Canada not so long ago, has voiced his belief that the time is not distant when radio will be an important means of instruction in the schools. He therefore recommends the wiring of new school buildings in preparation for this development. The only point upon which Professor Prigon may be wrong is the question of time. Possibly he is a bit optimistic, but at least it may be taken for granted that when the youths of to-day become the school trustees of the future, they will naturally make use of radio for instructional purposes.

His suggestion that new buildings be wired for radio is one that is deserving of serious consideration by school boards throughout the Dominion. A few hundred dollars would cover the cost while the building is under construction, while installation afterwards would cost a great deal more.

Twenty-five Years Ago To-day

The Victoria Daily Times, November 4, 1905

A local industry, one only recently taken over by a syndicate of Victoria capitalists, has been advancing so rapidly during the past few weeks that more buildings and a corresponding increase in the capacity of the plant is contemplated. The industry referred to is the Albion Iron Works stove factory. Some time ago it will be remembered, an effort was made by the Record Foundry, with branches at Moncton, N.B., and Montreal, to acquire the business. The eastern company, however, did not offer as large a sum as that of the newly incorporated local concern, and the latter was placed in control.

The annual meeting of the local branch of the S.P.C.A. was held last evening in the city hall. The attendance was large, exceeding any previous gathering of the society, which gives evidence to the fact that the work of the organization is attracting public attention.

The closing days of the month of October were marked at the city treasurer's office by a rush of taxpayers anxious to pay the amount due by them to the city.

The B.C. Electric Railway Company are arranging on the mainland for the transportation of power to the use of the houses whose premises are being supplied with the use of the company's power.

Loose Ends

Human nature on our road—To gether with an old black horse—Some dull notes on a dull subject—And what happened at Little Rock, Ark.

By H. B. W.

WALKING IN the country, as I do, with disreputable clothes and a walking-stick large enough to sell a cow, you will find much human nature. To-day, for instance, as I was walking along our road a hundred empty cans passed me and their drivers eyed me with suspicion. None of them offered me a lift. Of course, I didn't want a lift, because I was walking for the fun of it, but these drivers didn't know that. They thought I was walking to town, many miles away, yet not a single one bothered to help a fellow human being apparently in distress. Nor did my clothes have anything to do with it, for I have had the same experience when I was dressed for civilization and would have welcomed a lift. No, the truth is that prosperous drivers in swagger cars do not want to pick me or anyone else up on our road.

BUT OBSERVE THIS: As I was walking along our road to-day, pondering these things with a melancholy heart, I heard behind me the rattle and thunder of a broken-down old car which, I suppose, first saw the light in the first years of the war. From afar I could hear the brakes being applied, for they squeaked in great agony, and presently there drew up beside me a tragic wreck of an automobile. It was an old fellow with a white beard, and seven turkeys in a crate. The old fellow poked his head out of the side and he asked me in the most friendly way whether I wouldn't like a lift to town. He was dressed in disreputable clothes and he knew one of his kind. He was not too mighty to give me or anyone else a lift, for he had not been ruined by prosperity. He was to kind, indeed, that I pretended to be on the way to town and rode several miles with him, and I noted that he seemed to be much happier in his broken-down pre-war car with his seven turkeys than any of the supercilious drivers in the big sedans who had passed me by.

THERE WAS something even more strange than that on our road to-day. On our road to-day I found a policeman on a motorcycle leading an old black horse by a rope, and I think on the whole it was the most curious sight I have ever seen in these parts. It is the duty of policemen out in these parts, I presume, to lead stray horses to the pound, but a motorcycle used for this purpose, however efficient it may be, is more amusing than you can possibly imagine unless you have seen it. Slowly and with great dignity this odd procession moved down our road, the ultimate blinding of the machine and the age of horses. But more curious still, while the handsome young policeman was evidently humiliated and blushed as I passed (for no policeman can look his best in uniform dragging a horse from a motorcycle), his humiliation in no wise equalled that of the horse. I could sympathize with the policeman, but all the pity of my nature went out to the horse, which was thus reduced from its high estate to follow the worst and noisiest product of our mechanical civilization. It is proper to consider the comfort our policemen and provide them with motorcycles, but surely we ought to consider the finer feelings of those who have to follow these officers and the law, even when on the way to the pound.

HARRY ELMER BARNES, noted sociologist, has just handed down this profound opinion: "We shall ultimately come to admit that society has been as unfortunate in handing criminals over to lawyers and judges as it once was in entrusting medicine to shamans and astrologers, and surgery to barbers. The diagnosis and treatment of the criminal is a highly technical medical and sociological problem for which the lawyer is rarely any better fitted than a real estate agent or a plumber." This, of course, is true, and we are coming to realize it much more rapidly, perhaps, than Mr. Barnes has indicated. We have started with the problem of insanity and are already handling insane people as we handle sick people instead of considering them dangerous malefactors, as we used to do. Now we have started to handle crime somewhat in the same light and, as Mr. Barnes says, we shall eventually treat the criminal for his criminal instincts instead of merely punishing him.

THIS, OF COURSE, is going to be a large business. It will require tremendous expenditures and the employment of innumerable experts. These, together with the army of scientists and experts who are treating the insane, will some day make up a large part of the sane and non-criminal portion of society. Insanity is increasing so fast already, indeed, that at its present rate a majority of the world will be insane within a century or so and the minority will have to look after them. With criminals to be cared for in the same way, the sane and non-criminal soon will have little time for anything else. And how we, or rather they, are going to pay the bill no one can foresee. There should be no unemployment then.

SOMETHING HORRIBLE but very eloquent of our modern way of doing things happened the other day near Little Rock, Ark. Little Marie Overby, aged nine, had been motoring with her mother when their car became entangled in a fallen high-voltage transmission line. Mrs. Overby was electrocuted and when they got to the child in the hospital they found a little girl who had been thrown from the car and was lying on the ground with her chest wall. Her heart was beating strongly and she felt no pain. Of course there was no hope of saving her life. So, according to a contemporary account, "the doctors, mindful of the professional value of an exposed heart action, draped in a moving-picture camera, and photographed the puzzled little girl's viscera during the fourteen hours she continued to live."

THROUGH this remarkable experiment, perhaps, medical science will discover many important things. Perhaps it will save many lives from the knowledge thus acquired. But somehow one fails to find any comfort in it. One fails to find any comfort, indeed, in a civilization which cures its ills in such a fashion: in a system which keeps a child exposed to a motion-picture machine for her last fourteen hours so that the action of her shattered body may be recorded for science. It is a high price to pay for any knowledge. What man will care to save his skin on such a basis?

WILLOWS BY-LAW BEFORE COUNCIL

Raising of $70,000 For Development at Fair Grounds Proposed

With one dissenting voice in the council, the Exhibition Buildings Loan By-law, 1930, providing for the raising of $70,000 by debentures to be spent on developments at the Willows fair grounds, was introduced and given first and second reading at the City Council meeting yesterday evening.

Providing it passes the council, the by-law will be submitted to the ratepayers the December polls. Two new structures are planned under the measure. One will be used for the horse show and stock judging and the other will be utilized by manufacturers for exhibition purposes. The by-law provides for the borrowing of $70,000 on debentures, not less than $1000 each, and bearing five per cent over a period of ten years. Half of the cost is to be borne by the Provincial Government, which will provide the land and interest on the debentures. The measure was introduced by Mr. A. D. Brown, vice-president of the introduction of the by-law.

1,500 CRATES PEACHES GO TO INCINERATOR

Fruit Glut Continues on the Prairies; Calgary Gets Apples at $1.05 a Box

Fruit and produce business continues very dull, according to to-day's market report issued by the Department of Agriculture markets branch here. The price of hay and potatoes has not been established as the supply is being withheld and the limited demand does not warrant any advance in price.

The following is a copy of wire received from Calgary: "Strong winds prevalent over the prairies for the last two days will help very materially in drying out grain now in stock. Farmers are making every minute count throughout the Calgary district and south. There is no noticeable pick up in the fruit and vegetable business. Offerings of Grand Forks Household, Alexander and Baxter apples at seventy-five cents are handed here, one dollar and five cents. A few delicious selling, but other varieties of Winters dead.

"Local jobbers are not taking very kindly to Australian and Californian peaches and it is not expected they will be much of a factor on this market unless California prices are out of reach.

"A shipment of over fifteen hundred crates of Washington Elberta peaches was made this week by one local jobber. The unfortunate part of this shipment was the fact that it went to the incinerator instead of into local channels of trade.

"One prairie chain of fruit jobbers, with two local houses, have gone into the grocery business, handling the standard lines of canned goods, jam and sugar. The fact that they are selling the above at actual cost for cash looks like an attempt to discipline some of the wholesale grocers who have entered the fruit jobbing field lately."

"Y" Gym Leaders

Back From Good Annual Meeting

The next provincial Y.M.C.A. gym leaders convention will be held in New Westminster, in 1932. It was announced by Archie McKinnon, one of the local delegates to the annual session in the Terminal City, on his return here yesterday.

Next year the convention will take the form of an international conference for which neither the date nor location was set.

During the meeting in Vancouver, local delegates took part in all discussions and voiced their views on the different topics which came up. Allan Stewart conducted the devotional exercises on Saturday, while Norman Collins, president of the Victoria leaders group, presided over the entire session on Sunday.

Along with the local delegates, J. Howard Crocker, of Toronto, and W. A. Aldritt, director of physical education in Winnipeg, crossed over to the city.

WONDERFUL, SHE SAYS OF SARGON

Had Been in Terrible Health For Fifteen Years Before She Started Sargon

"It is certainly wonderful to be rid of fifteen years' suffering and to once more feel a zest for living—and to Sargon goes all the credit," recently said Mrs. Walter Henderson, a well-known resident of 7094 Ontario Street, Vancouver.

"My troubles began with nervous indigestion and a 'giving away' of my strength and vitality. I had to wear darkened glasses on account of my awful headaches, and I suffered with terrible pains in my shoulders and in the small of my back. Sometimes at night I'd wake up feeling like I'd smothered with a pressure around my heart, and it required hot water bottles and hard rubbing to give me even temporary relief. I hardly knew what it was to be hungry; my whole system was filled with acid and poison; salt-rheum broke out over my hands and my right limb would at times get numb from poor circulation. I tried medicine after medicine—and took them faithfully—but without avail. Then I started Sargon and it is simply marvelous what it has done for me."

"I'm hungry all the time now; my food digests perfectly and nobody can realize the wonderful feeling of relief it has given me to be free of my terrible nervousness, aches and pains—free of every ailment in my body. I'm strengthened and invigorated and feel ten years younger. My husband and my friends are as delighted over my recovery as I am."

"Never have I found a laxative as gentle and effective as Sargon Pills. My liver is active and I'm entirely free of toxic poisons. I never fail to tell others how this remarkable treatment solved my troubles."

Sargon may be obtained in Victoria and Vancouver from all Opt. Drug Stores. In New Westminster from the Fraser Valley Dispensary, 1000 Main Street. In Port Moody from the Fraser Valley Dispensary, 1000 Main Street. In Oak Bay from Charles Hudson. (Adv.)

Langford

Girl guides from Luxton and Happy Valley, Colwood and Langford were present on Saturday afternoon at Langford Lakeside Hall, when their meeting was conducted by Miss Doris Hibern, captain.

Inspection, drilling and arrangements were made for the annual girl guide swimming gala to be held at the Crystal Garden on Saturday, November 15. Owing to other arrangements, the local guides will not hold a meeting next Saturday, November 6. Progressive bridge and golf will be played at the first card party of the season, to be held on Wednesday evening at the Women's Institute Hall on Dunford Road, commencing at 8 o'clock. Small prizes will be given and refreshments served by the institute directors. A nominal charge will be made and part of the proceeds will be donated to charity. All residents are invited to be present and newcomers will be welcomed.

Members of St. Matthew's Guild are requested to be present at the monthly meeting to be held on Wednesday, November 5, at the home of Mrs. Horace Simpson, Sherwood, Peatt Lane, at 2:30 o'clock.

"Danderine" dissolves the Crust of Dandruff

So Easy to Use! It Soothes, Tones Scalp; Gives New Life to Hair!

Dandruff is unsightly! And what is worse, it steals life itself from the hair; makes it dull, brittle, scraggy; starts it to falling out; makes you gray before your time.

Why tolerate this? There's no use when you can get "Danderine" from any drugstore for just a few cents.

"Danderine" is no experiment. It has proven its merit by years of use and popularity. It dissolves the crust of dandruff in a hurry. The scalp is cleansed, soothed and toned by the first application. Excess oil is removed from the hair; its own natural color is brought out marvelously; it is soon sparkling with new life and lustre. Used consistently, Danderine keeps the scalp in the pink of condition; encourages the hair to grow long, thick, more youthful looking.

Five million bottles used a year—Danderine's popularity. And you won't wonder at this when you learn the easy use and how quickly it gives health to the scalp and vigor and youthful appearance to the hair! Every drugstore and toilet counter sells Danderine; 35c. bottles. (Adv.)

RELATIONS OF CANADA AND U.S. DEFINED

John Bird Tells Clubwomen Canada Souder, Politically and Socially Than States

Says This Country Likely to Influence Neighbor, Despite Population Difference

That Canada is souder both financially and politically, than the United States, and in these matters is more likely in the next hundred years to influence the country to the south than that country is to influence Canada, was one of the interesting opinions expressed by John Bird, a much traveled and widely-informed South African, now resident in the United States, in the course of a brilliant address before the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon. The speaker ably defined the strategic position of Canada as a link between the United States and Great Britain, from the social, political and economic standpoints.

While Britain herself had experienced various "ups" and "downs" in her post-war relations with the United States, owing to such influences as the future of the Geneva Conference in 1927, and ex-President Coolidge's Armistice Day speech in 1928, among the "downs," the visits of ex-Premier Baldwin and Premier Ramsey MacDonald, and the recent Naval Conference among the "ups," the relations between the Dominions and the States had always been of the most friendly character.

One of the strongest bonds between Canada and the country to the south was what the speaker defined as "the North American disposition," which showed among other things, an inclination to distrust certain European conditions, certain European political relationships. The most striking difference was, that Canada, after the war, was more prepared to share her responsibilities than the United States.

LIQUOR POLICY ADMIRRED
Canada's policy in dealing with the liquor question had aroused the admiration and envy of all classes in the United States, declared Mr. Bird. Both "wet" and "dry" acknowledged the "wisdom" in having turned the matter over to the different provinces to deal with instead of making it a subject of federal regulation.

While the States might have the economic domination, Canada's social and political influence upon the United States was very apparent, in the opinion of the speaker. "American opinion at large," he tends to look to Canada in an extraordinary way. The United States is particularly interested in the way in which you administer justice; Canada in this respect is being continually held up as an example, even though the more thoughtful students know that you derive your ideas of justice from Britain," said Mr. Bird.

CANADA MORE THAN A LINK
That Canada was much more than a link between the United States and Great Britain was another interesting statement made by Mr. Bird. He pointed out that not only was Canada able through her unique geographical position, to understand the viewpoint of each side, but she represented in her political fibre the traditions of British jurisprudence and the British ideals of inter-Dominion relations, in holding the respect of the United States for herself she had indirectly won it for Great Britain as well.

After comparing the three countries, to the sides of an equilateral triangle, Mr. Bird said: "Great Britain is prepared to treat you as an equal partner in the triangle. I hope Canada will impress on the United States the necessity of being treated by her also as an equal partner."

CANADIAN NATIONALISM
Since residing in the United States for the last seven years, the speaker has visited Canada a dozen times and has observed a growing Canadian nationalism in the sense of the development of a distinctively Canadian civilization and culture without any sentiment toward secession from the Motherland.

Mr. Bird felt that the national spirit in Canada was based on a belief in the country and on the hopes for its development along cultural as well as commercial lines.

While on the subject of nationalism he touched upon that of patriotism, declaring that patriotism was not sufficient to head off war. To ensure peace it was necessary to cultivate patriotism together with the international mind.

Mrs. P. B. Scurrah presided, and Miss Bruce voiced the thanks of the gathering to the speaker for his brilliant address.

The musical part of the programme was supplied by Brian Burdon-Murphy, one of the British Columbia Musical Festival medal winners, who skillfully played three piano-forte solos, Chopin's "Revolutionary Etude," a Macdowell "Sea Piece," and, for an encore, Schumann's "Warum."

The next club meeting is to be on Tuesday, November 18, at 2:45 o'clock when Mrs. C. V. Schofield will be the speaker, telling about her recent European tour.

Metropolitan W.M.S.—The annual thanksgiving meeting at the Metropolitan W.M.S. has been postponed from the evening of Wednesday, November 5, to Wednesday evening, November 12, at 8 o'clock.

Langman, "Oakhaven," The Esquima, will leave to-morrow afternoon for the mainland en route to her home on the prairie. Mr. Langman will accompany Mrs. McCallum as far as Vancouver.

At the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Allan, 2747 Graham Street, yesterday evening at 7 o'clock, Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., united in marriage Miss Mary Shirriff Jamieson, R.N.D. daughter of Mr. Hugh Jamieson of Swift Current, Sask., to William Spawson of Vancouver, formerly of Winnipeg. The bride is a graduate of Swift Current General Hospital and is with the Victorian Order of Nurses, Vancouver, and the musical circles, being a gold medalist tenor of the recent B.C. festival. The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, Mr. John Allan. After the wedding dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Spawson left on the midnight boat for Vancouver, where they will make their home.

A very enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mrs. W. H. Bolton, 285 Cowichan Street, in honor of the twentieth birthday of Harold Anfield. Games and music were very much enjoyed by the young people. Those present were: Mr. Harold Anfield, Mr. and Mrs. S. Anfield, Mr. and Mrs. P. Henry, Mr. and Mrs. J. Taylor, Dr. MacKenzie Cleland, Mrs. Keith, Mrs. T. G. Harris, Misses Joan Harris, Dorothy Harris, Dorothy Williams, Doris Henry, Phyllis Henry, M. Henry, Messrs. R. Stoffer, Bert, Osmond, Bill Haslam, Ed. Dunc and Mrs. Petre. A novel item of the evening was the wonderful whistling of Mr. Reg. Stoffer. Mrs. Anfield had charge of the refreshments.

Chapter Birthday Tea To-morrow

Camosun Chapter, I.O.O.F., will celebrate its twenty-first birthday to-morrow afternoon with a tea at the home of Miss Agnew, "Schuhum," Rockland Avenue, to which all members and interested friends are invited. Tea will be served from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. and the afternoon a short address will be given by Mrs. R. B. McKinnon, one of the charter members of the chapter.

SALE BY KING'S DAUGHTERS SOON

Annual Bazaar to Be Held November 22; Plans Made Yesterday

Preliminary arrangements for the annual sale of work to be held in the New Thought Hall on November 22 were made at the district meeting of the King's Daughters, held yesterday afternoon in the rest room, with Mrs. L. H. Hardie, president, in the chair. There will be the usual stalls for the sale of fancy work, home cooking, novelties, candies and other wares, and a specialty will be made of Christmas gifts suitable for sending overseas.

Mrs. James Stewart gave a report of the rest room for the month, and Mrs. E. A. Playfair reported for the King's Daughters Hospital at Duncan. The various circles reported of their activities, showing that many speedy families had been assisted with cash, milk, clothing and fuel. A book had been donated by the Y.W.C.A. library; 100 pounds of sugar given to the Orphanage pound party, and five dollars' worth of Veterinary supplies purchased to use in the decoration of the rest room. The invitation tea had been a big success, it was reported.

Prior to the opening of business, the members passed a standing vote of sympathy to Mrs. H. A. S. Morley and Mrs. W. G. Cameron in their recent bereavement.

MANY VISITORS TO ART EXHIBIT

Annual Show of Island Arts Society on This Week at Bastion Street

Many residents as well as visitors have frequented the annual exhibition of the Island Arts and Crafts Society which is being held for the remainder of this week in the old Board of Trade Building, Bastion Street, closing on Saturday evening, and have been well rewarded by the excellent collection of water-colours, oils, pastels and black and white, and crafts.

Many well-known artists who have exhibited at previous exhibitions of the society are again represented this year, together with a number of others whose names are new to the catalogue. But all share one common attribute, that of adherence to the high standard which has been a feature of the society's exhibitions of the last two years. The crafts section is particularly interesting, showing as it does the tendency to revive many of the old "cottage" industries, such as spinning and weaving; pottery-making, basket work, needlework in various attractive forms, as well as leather work and a number of various kinds, and china painting. Tea is being served every afternoon in the attractive tea-room.

The exhibition serves again to bring home very forcibly the need of an adequate building in which to house an art exhibit, and the society is deserving of the fullest commendation and support for undertaking such an excellent exhibition under such difficult conditions.

YOUR BABY and MINE

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

SLEEPING BAG SOLVES COVER PROBLEM IN COLD WEATHER

When mothers express their ignorance about baby care, I hope they never think for one moment that I consider them "foolish." I find that even trained nurses admit difficulties when it comes to dealing with their own babies. We are anxious to help mothers, not to criticize them for their lack of knowledge. To take the attitude that one already knows everything is to simply paralyze progress.

Mrs. O. A. R. writes: "Your talks are so helpful and I do need help. My baby is now fifteen months old, weighs twenty-two pounds and is thirty-one inches tall. Now these questions may seem foolish to you, but I am inexperienced and want to learn. Last winter my baby slept in a cold room. Do you think that best? I had baby bunting for him, but, of course, that won't do for the winter. He won't keep his arms covered and is so about kicking off the covers. How can I manage this?"

WHAT CLOTHING?

"Should he sleep in a shirt, and would you use a petticoat under his rompers? Do you think if I got him a jersey suit that he would catch cold when put into a wash suit? Do you think he should wear stockings in cold weather? I'm trying to train him. When he is trained, he will be able to place of diapers." He takes viosterol. Is that all right when given in orange juice?"

The room in which any child sleeps should have a free circulation of fresh air, which can be managed without draughts or extreme cold. Keep on the heat and open the window about two inches at both top and bottom, which is better than a wider opening just at the bottom. Fabric screens, made of double thicknesses of stout muslin also allow for plenty of fresh air, but prevent draughts. Make use of these and keep the room temperature at about fifty-five degrees during the night.

TRY SLEEPING BAG

I think it much easier to put baby in a sleeping bag than to try to keep loose covers over him. We have a leaflet on "Simple Directions for Making a Sleeping Bag," and also a leaflet on "How to Dress Babies and Children in Winter," both of which you may have for a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

The untrained child should wear washable garments. I would not change from jersey to cotton and back again. At night let him wear a cotton, knitted band, a diaper, and his long-sleeved, long-legged, knitted nightgown. Ordinarily petticoats are not necessary in daytime, when he will wear the same part wool or all cotton band, heavy shirt, diapers, long stockings, and rompers. If your house is very cold and changeable, a petticoat may be necessary. When he is trained, (and do start now), he may wear knitted pants, fastened to a waist with buttons. He'll not wear the band when diapers are discarded. A look around the department stores will give you lots of ideas. Viosterol may be given in milk or orange juice.

ISLAND BAPTIST SESSION HERE

Opening Meeting Will Be Held To-morrow Afternoon

Rev. F. W. McKinnon, President, Will Address Evening Session

The Baptist Island Association will hold its autumn session in the First Baptist Church, Victoria, to-morrow, beginning at 2:30 o'clock.

The afternoon session will be addressed by Rev. C. K. Morse, newly-appointed superintendent of Baptist missions for British Columbia. Miss Edith Mann, returned missionary from India, will be the speaker at the women's session from 3:30 to 4:30 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Gieseler, acting pastor of the First Baptist Church, Vancouver, and Rev. G. A. Reynolds of the First Church, Victoria, will also deliver addresses at the afternoon session.

Supper will be served by the ladies of the First Baptist Church at 6 o'clock. During this period Rev. F. W. McKinnon of the Douglas Street Church, president of the association, will speak.

The evening session will open at 7:30 o'clock by a song service and special music by a joint choir from the Emmanuel and First Baptist Churches.

Fred Parfitt, secretary of the association, will give a devotional address on the "Rich Young Ruler." This will be followed by addresses by Rev. Dr. Gieseler, Rev. C. K. Morse and Miss Edith Mann of India.

FINE RECITAL BY PIANISTE

Mrs. MacLure Reveals Brilliant Accomplishments in Recital

By G.J.D.

It has been known for some time that Mrs. Margaret C. MacLure had special musical gifts and that she had in her early days the best of music masters. Citizens too, generally, are well aware of her prominent activities associated with the late Victoria Ladies' Musical Club. Those who are the more intimately acquainted with her talents realize her pianistic accomplishments. And now so long ago she aroused admiration when she gave some excellent Wagnerian lecture recitals, illustrating her "talks" by many examples of the great composer's music at the piano with splendid indications as to her attainments.

So it proved yesterday evening when she appeared in recital at the Shrine Auditorium in a well devised and really big programme of varying elements. Here was a pleasant surprise to many. There was much that was striking and deeply felt in her playing. Never for a moment was there a shoddy, straining after effect. It was evident that the spirit of the music was to her the only means that moved her interpretations of it, and even before the conclusion of the majestic "Chorale" from Bach's Cantata No. 147—the opening number—one could not but be impressed with the fact, and indeed throughout the programme was the impression conveyed, if Miss MacLure had only the time and opportunity of closer rehearsal with herself during her latter years, she could now be counted among the best exponents of piano playing on the Pacific Coast.

Her musicianship is unquestioned, and she seemingly has no little courageous independence, to which may be added wide resources in tone color and warm-blooded flights of fancy. In those respects especially voicing Schubert's "Impromptu," op. 90, No. 1; "La Cathédrale Engloutie" (submerged Cathedral), by that master of impressionists, Claude Debussy; the imaginative and idealistic "Finlandia," by Sibelius; the piano arrangement by herself of Wagner's "Magic Fire-Scene" from "Die Walküre"; Graham Pile's delightful "Prelude," and Liszt's "Hungarian Rhapsody," No. 12, of his fifteen rhapsodies, in these particularly evincing firmness of tone and her individualistic vigor and vitality.

The "Valse" by Brahms, Chopin's "Berceuse" in D flat, and the Grieg number, "Nocturne," showed her in melting moods, which occasionally made a direct appeal to the hearts of her hearers, who in fairly large numbers, showed in their enthusiastic applause their appreciation of her technical skill, interpretative effectiveness, and remarkable memory.

MARY MCCOY JAMESON

The assisting artist was Mary McCoy Jameson, a well-known local soprano, who came always be depended upon to give a good account of herself. Her enunciation is never-failingly good, one can put down the programme of words and does not a single syllable. Her pure, clear, soprano voice served her perhaps the better in the two last numbers of her group. "At Eve I Heard a Flute" (Lily Strickland), in which the first tones were excellently accompanied by her usually excellent accompanist, Ira D. Worth, and Schubert's "My Sweet Repose," a delightful example of this composer's art songs. To an insistent recall Mrs. Jameson gave a Lithuanian song by Chopin. Her stage poise and personality, too, are not to be underrated. Several bouquets were handed the two ladies at the conclusion of the programme.

Malahat I.O.G.E.—Under the auspices of Malahat Chapter, I.O.G.E., a successful tea and sale of home cooking was held at the Wilton Tea Rooms, Cobble Hill, on Saturday last. ## EAGLES PRESENT COT TO ST. JOSEPH'S HOSPITAL

A very pleasing little ceremony took place on Sunday afternoon at St. Joseph's Hospital when a delegation from Victoria Aerie No. 12, Fraternal Order of Eagles, waited upon Sister Superior and the members of the Hospital Council and staff for the purpose of presenting to the hospital a special cot with exceptionally comfortable mattress and adjustable headrest. The cot is so proportioned that it may be wheeled through any type of doorway, which makes it a most desirable gift, since the doors of the older part of the hospital are not so wide as those in the new wing.

In making the presentation, Worthington C. H. Lester said, in part: "The officers and members appreciate the care and treatment the staff of St. Joseph's Hospital have given them and all patients in their time of sickness and misfortune, and I assure you it is making this presentation that they wish to show in a small way their appreciation of your kindness. While sickness is not confined to any station in life, rich and poor suffering alike, St. Joseph's Hospital has, always given gladly of its wonderful facilities to alleviate pain and suffering."

Sister Superior replied on behalf of the hospital, expressing the sincere thanks of the staff for the kindly and generous gift. The cot, which was to have been on exhibition yesterday in the main corridor leading to the new wing, was requisitioned long before the day was done, and a patient had the benefit of the hours of sunshine on the roof solarium in the afternoon.

F.O.E. Auxiliary—The Ladies' Auxiliary No. 12, F.O.E., will meet to-night in the Eagles' Hall, Government Street, at 8 o'clock. Three new members will be initiated and final arrangements made for the third anniversary this month, also the sale and tea they are holding in the near future. Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Odd Fellows Whist Drive.—On Wednesday evening, Columbia Lodge, I.O.O.F., will hold a social evening. Klondike whist will be the game played, commencing at 8:30 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to Odd Fellows of the other lodges, also to the members of Colfax and Carle Rebekah lodges.

for Children HYTEX ideal underwear "DOUBLE INSULATION" protects against colds

NOW! More comfort... better health... more warmth. That is what your children will have with this new underwear called Hytex... HYgienic TEXTile.

Hytex is the invention of leading Canadian child specialists. They experimented to find a fabric that would give children warmth, rapid and complete absorption of body moisture and lack of skin irritation and at the same time would combine durability with moderate cost. Hytex met all these requirements.

Hytex applies the new health principle of Double Insulation, which maintains resistance against colds. An outer layer of pure Botany wool is knitted by a special process with an inner layer of finely combed, bleached cotton. The wool insulates the body from cold... prevents the escape of natural heat. The soft, comfortable cotton insulates the body from wool irritation.

You need not fear sudden chilling and consequent colds with Hytex underwear, because the inner cotton layer instantly absorbs all body moisture. It prevents chilling perspiration and clamminess. Little bodies are kept warm and dry.

Every Hytex garment is beautifully, comfortably tailored to fit... no bulging seams or hard knots to chafe little bodies. There is a perfect Hytex garment for every age from infancy to 16 years. Each style has been scientifically designed to meet the requirements of different ages... shirts and drawers... short arm and short leg combinations... drop and flap seats.

And Hytex gives you more value for every cent of cost than any other children's underwear. It is unshrinkable and retains its shape. Special knitting makes it remarkably durable.

See Hytex today. In all good children's departments.

New Hill To Test Motorcyclists In Annual Climb

Steeper Slope To Provide Plenty of Grief For Drivers

Victoria Motorcycle Club Members Prepare for Annual Event at Mount Tolmie on Monday Afternoon; Expect One of Best Climbs in History; Riders Will Face Sixty Degree Grade; Competitors Will Be Divided Into Three Classes; Large Attendance of Spectators Looked For.

Mudguards are coming off, mufflers disappearing, lighting equipment dumped and every bit of extra weight discarded as members of the Victoria Motorcycle Club prepare for their annual hill climb at Mount Douglas on Thanksgiving Day. That accounts for several unsightly machines which have appeared on the streets recently.

NORMAL SCHOOL SNOWED UNDER BY COLLEGIANS

Craigdarroch Hoopsters Score 39 to 15 Victory Over Budding Teachers

Displaying a classy form of basketball, Victoria College hoopsters snowed under the Normal School quintette by a 39-to-15 score in a game played at Normal School yesterday afternoon.

College took the lead early in the game when they scored a few minutes after the start and increased it in the following minutes by a series of rapid plays. The Normalites proved aggressive but were not able to come up to the blue and gold boys. At half time the score was 15 to 10 in favor of College.

During the second half College went on a rampage and more than doubled their score while the teachers were only able to add five points to their total. Mortimer starred for College in the second half, putting in two long "sinks" from positions well past the centre. Play was difficult for both teams on account of the condition of the floor, which was slippery after the Normal dance on Saturday. Lloyd Jones, captain of the College team, proved a tower of strength, netting seventeen points for his side while Hanna, husky forward of the Normalites, turned in the best game for his team. J. Horbury refereed.

The teams were:
Normal School—Whyman (1), Hanna (2), Macdonald (3), Ward (4), Quigley (5), Wollach (6).
College—Jones (17), Fraser (6), Petch, Fields (2), Mortimer (5), Gwyn, Millar (10).

Announce Dates For British Open And Amateur Golf

On Sunday several aspirants for this year's honors held a workout at the hill. The weather was wet and foggy but the "bike" enthusiasts were undaunted and registered some pretty good marks while tuning up their machines. Trouble was experienced by some of the riders in getting their motors to "rev" properly at high speeds and attention was turned to ignition, defective spark plugs, carburetion and so forth in attempts to get them functioning properly.

Members of the club expect this year's climb to be one of the most successful in its history. It is only in the last three years that hill climbing has been revived and more than usual interest has been taken by the public, which attends in large bodies to view the attempts of enthusiasts to "make the grade" on the stiff slope.

Attendance at hill climbs held in New Westminster, Vancouver, Seattle and other mainland points has given the local riders several pointers on this thrilling, and often dangerous sport. New tricks in "coupling" motors and pointers on riding the grade have been picked up and probably will be in evidence here.

A "takeoff" put has been excavated in the side of a bank at the bottom of the grade. Out of this opening the riders will drop about four feet to the extreme bottom, then suddenly shooting up at about a sixty degree angle on the face of the slope. Providing less than thirty feet of "runway," the pit is expected to provide grief for many of the competitors.

As on previous occasions the contestants will ride in three separate classes. In the eighty inch open event, for instance, the riders will be divided into three classes. A couple of four-cylinder outfits and "L" motors will compete against the standard 45's and 74's in this class, it is expected.

Keen competition is anticipated in the forty-five inch class, which has provided the greatest surprise in other years. One or two machines and riders which have taken prizes in mainland events will be entered in this class. The other event will be for the stock 74's and promises a large entry list.

Racing Association Pays $1,000,000 For Lease on Track

Chicago, Nov. 4.—The Chicago Businessmen's Racing Association which operates the Hawthorne Track, believes that horse racing will be a profitable enterprise for at least fifteen more years.

The group believed it to the extent of renewing its lease on the west side plant until 1945 for $1,000,000—an annual rental of approximately $66,000.

J.B.A.A. WORKOUT

Bob McInnes' husky J.B.A.A. rugby teams in the senior and intermediate divisions will hold a workout this evening at 7 o'clock in the club's gymnasium. All players are requested to turn out.

POOR PA

"Ma says I came to the hospital twice a day to see her while she had that pretty nurse, but that after she let the nurse go she didn't see much of me."

LESTER PATRICK, MANAGER OF THE NEW YORK RANGERS.

LESTER PREPARES FOR "COMEBACK" JERWA AND BEATTIE OF VANCOUVER ALONG WITH EDDIE RODDEN OF LONDON ARE AMONG THE STAND-OUT ROOKIES—1928 WAS THE LAST WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP THE RANGERS W.A.O. THEY WILL MAKE A BIG BID AGAIN THIS YEAR.

New York Rangers, champions of the National Hockey League in 1928, bid fair to do a "comeback." They failed to head off the mighty Boston Bruins in the last two campaigns, but it is a greatly strengthened line-up that Lester Patrick is leading this season, and there is reason to hope for better results. All of the 1929-30 regulars are available, and in addition the New York management has secured the services of "Deacon" Waite of Boston; Peter, Philadelphia defence star; Gene Carrigan of Springfield; Alfie Moore, Cleveland's brilliant goalkeeper; Jerwa and Beattie of Vancouver, and Eddie Rodden, who played the centre-ice position for London last year. With the arrival of the sensational Coach brothers, Bill and "Bunny," all the candidates have "checked in," and they will be rushed through strenuous practice drills at the Ravina rink. Bill Cook, as usual, is in great condition, and he was apparently playing as well as he ever did, which is saying a lot, when it is considered that he is the right wing in hockey. Leo Bourgeault, and "Ching" Johnson, sided by Peter and Siebert, the Kitchener product, were impressive on the Ranger defence. All are fine checkers, and they are clever puck-carriers. Siebert, however, will remain with Springfield for another season, as he is still a youngster, and will benefit by experience. Manager Patrick had not statements to issue, but he did infer that he knows nothing about the reported trade of Bourgeault for Martin Burke of the Montreal Canadiens. This deal was suggested last winter, but no agreement was reached.

LOCAL BOXERS IN WORK OUT

Competitors on Thursday Night's Card at Variety Step Through Paces

If the principals in Joe Bayley's fistie show, billed for Thursday evening at the Variety Theatre, display the same aggressive tactics that they employed in their training bouts at Fitz's Billiard Parlors yesterday evening, the fans are due to witness some good glove throwing.

All of the principals in the main events donned the gloves and appeared to be in excellent shape for the bouts. Frankie Neal, who meets Wing Hay in one of the two six-round bouts, put on the gloves with Tommy Drysdale for three rounds, and the fighters mixed it up at a merry clip. Dumbo Davies then boxed a couple of rounds with Drysdale, and the fans were treated to a great slugger. Wing-Hay boxed a few rounds with Tim Keisk, who meets Drysdale in the second six-round bout. All the fighters will work out again this evening at 8 o'clock at the same place, and the fans are invited to attend and look them over.

Promoter Bayley announces that he has signed up Danny Pastore and Will Shoultice for a four-round bout.

Taylor Prize Won By Mrs. Hutchinson

With a gross of 85, which her handicap of nine reduced to 76, Mrs. Hutchinson won the "A" special prize donated by Phil Taylor for women who scored in the recent caddie tournament at the Victoria Golf Club. The contest was played yesterday. Mrs. Mitchell captured "B" class honors with a card of 107.92.5.

The real truth about motor oil!

You cannot get a Super-Motor Oil and a Super-Gasoline from the same crude MOTOR OIL and gasoline have a common parent...the same crude oil. In the process of manufacture one must come second to the other. Either the oil will receive first consideration...or the gasoline.

When the oil plays second fiddle, you often pay the price. You can't get a super-motor oil and a super-gasoline from the same crude!

C. C. Wakefield & Company...Producers of CASTROL...make no gasoline. Stranger still, they own no oil wells. They search the world for the finest oil, mineral and castor. These are purchased solely for their lubricating qualities.

In order to maintain the high grade of ingredients in Castrol, C. C. Wakefield & Company cannot afford to be tied to one oil field only.

When you put Castrol in your crank-case, your engine is lubricated by the finest motor oil money can buy. Castrol is recommended by Rolls Royce (Eng.) and over 230 leading motor car manufacturers.

UNEMPLOYED REGISTRATION OFFICE OPEN

City Arranges Quarters to Receive Applications of Single Men

Public Works Committee
Named to Receive Unemployed Delegations

Developments in the unemployment situation at the City Council meeting yesterday evening were:

Approval of plans to establish an office for registration of single men desiring work and reservation of property at 1114 Langley Street for this purpose.

Consideration of a complaint that insufficient wages were being paid to men engaged in relief work.

Appointment of the public works committee to hear delegations of unemployed and consequent refusal of a demand by unemployed to be heard by the council.

Filing of the Provincial Government agreement under which the city will receive $42,000 towards relief.

ASK HEARING
About thirty unemployed attended the meeting. James Forbes, on their behalf, attempted to interrupt the council procedure by demanding a hearing, but was told by the mayor that his wants had been attended to by the public works committee. William Moulton also made a mild protest which passed unregarded.

The recommendation for establishment of a registration office was contained in the public works committee report and was approved without debate.

QUESTION OF WAGES
In regard to the wage scale, Arthur
T. Purry, and three others, in a communication, claimed that men were being paid $1 a day for public works and $2 a cord for wood cutting. They claimed it was contrary to the spirit of the federal relief agreement, as well as a contravention of the minimum wage act.

Ald. J. L. Mara, chairman of the public works committee, explained that as far as the cordwood camp was concerned, it was a project entirely outside the federal relief scheme. All other works were being paid on the scale laid down by the relief act.

Mayor Anscomb, in passing, referred to the fact that fifty men had been taken to the cordwood camp to start work yesterday and two of them had resigned the jobs.

Will Seek Way To Restore Profit To
Poultry Industry

A general inquiry into the poultry and egg production industry of British Columbia will be commenced forthwith by the Department of Agriculture, following representations from poultrymen that prices for their products had made the industry unprofitable.

Hon. William Atkinson Minister of Agriculture has appointed W. W. Duncan, director of markets, and Professor
A. Lloyd, of the poultry division of the University of British Columbia, to make the investigation.

The inquiry will cover production and marketing methods and will include Mainland and Vancouver Island poultry centres.

Brentwood
A very successful children's masquerade party took place on Saturday evening at the Institute Hall, Brentwood, by the West Saanich and Saanich

SUIT AGAINST BILLY GIBSON IS DISMISSED

Former Manager of Gene Tunney Eliminated in Tim Mara's $500,000 Suit

Judge Now Considering Motion Asking Him to Throw Out Action Against Gene

New York, Nov. 4.—The complaint against Billy Gibson, co-defendant with Gene Tunney in Timothy J. Mara's suit to take a $500,000 slice of the former champion's bank roll, was dismissed yesterday, and Supreme Court Justice Peter A. Hatting took under advisement a motion to throw out also the suit against Tunney.

Gibson was eliminated immediately after Mara's lawyers rested their case. Counsel for the guardians of Gibson, who has been declared incompetent to handle his affairs, moved to dismiss on the grounds the plaintiff has failed to prove a case against him.

ASKED DISMISSAL
Emery R. Buckner, counsel for Tunney, then moved the case against his client also be dismissed, citing common law, whereby, he said, if a common law co-defendant in a suit in indebtedness was thrown out because of failure of proof, then there must of necessity be no case against the other defendant.

Justice Hatting adjourned the trial until Wednesday. In the meantime, Buckner will submit a brief and Littleton an answer.

Mara, on the stand yesterday, insisted he had made with Tunney an oral agreement whereby he was to get ten per cent of Tunney's purse from a Tunney-Dempsey match and twenty-five per cent of his earnings as champion.

Funeral Home to St. Andrew's Cathedral, where mass was celebrated at 9 o'clock. Interment was in Ross Bay Cemetery. The following acted as pallbearers: A. Cownden, H. Miller, A. Messerschmidt, J. L. Courville, J. Holden and R. Dickinson.

The funeral of Hedley Hammond Bailey took place yesterday afternoon from McCall Brothers' Funeral Home, Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., assisted by Canon F. A. P. Chadwick, conducted the service, during which the hymns, "Forever With the Lord" and "Come Unto Me, Ye Weary" were sung. Interment was in Ross Bay Cemetery. The following acted as pallbearers: W. Spry, W. Partridge, W. Thom, R. Clarke, R. Benson and G. Stagg.

Many friends in Victoria will learn with keen regret of the death of Mrs. Marie Malcolm, widow of David Malcolm, who passed away on Friday, October 31, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Florence Walker, 25 Royal Mansions, 1183 Pacific Street, Vancouver. Born in New Glasgow, Nova Scotia, she came with her husband to this province in 1898, where she had resided ever since. Mrs. Malcolm spent considerable time in Victoria visiting her daughter, Mrs. Louise Burgess, and the late A. S. (Ted) Burgess, and at Colwood, where she was an active member of the Colwood Women's Institute. She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Louise Burgess, Mrs. P. W. Jewitt, and Mrs. Florence Walker, all of Vancouver; three sons, Clair Malcolm, Calgary; D. Scott Malcolm, Revelstoke; and R. Victor Malcolm, Oakland, Calif.; one sister, Mrs. J. C. McLehlan, Vancouver; and three brothers, John J. Matheson and W. Scott Matheson of Seattle, and Neil Matheson of Truro, N.S.

PARK PROPOSAL BEFORE CHAMBER

Consideration Being Given Suggestion For Citizens' Committee

Every consideration will be given to the question of further development and beautification of Beacon Hill Park by the parks committee of the City Council Victoria Chamber of Commerce directors were advised in a letter read at yesterday's meeting.

The subject was originally discussed by the tourist trade group of the Chamber who offered the suggestion that a citizens' committee take over the work which is at present in the hands of the parks committee. In letter on the subject Duncan D. McTavish said Beacon Hill offered opportunities for beautification seldom found within the confines of any city. Considerable work could be done, he said, in the way of improvement at comparatively small cost. The broom could be cut into island and hundreds of trees and shrubs, now going to waste in the park nursery might be planted to good advantage. Planting of more bulbs was advocated. Mr. McTavish also suggested construction of tennis courts.

MANY PRAIRIE REPLIES FLOW FROM CAMPAIGN

Joint Victoria-Vancouver Publicity Programme Now in Progress

Publicity Bureau Receives Grant of $500 From Oak Bay Municipality

The directors of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau this afternoon approved the advertising material to be used in the course of the advertising campaign to be conducted this winter in the prairie provinces in collaboration with Vancouver. Commissioner George I. Warren stated that the campaign had opened on November 1, and already a very large list of requests for further information had been received. The campaign will be conducted through all the farm papers and six daily newspapers.

Arrangements have been made for Oliver Hollingsworth to leave on Monday for the principal prairie cities, visiting Winnipeg and the larger points, giving the course of a tour requiring five weeks.

Mr. Warren will represent Victoria at the Winnipeg convention of the Canadian Association of Tourist and Publicity Bureaus, of which he is first vice-president.

A review of the Redwood Highway Conference at Ukiah, Cal., was given by Mr. Warren, who stated that billboards south of Grant's Pass had been reduced to forty-one by recent legislation, and further restrictions were under consideration.

As an example of the community spirit of the smaller cities of the western states Mr. Warren said Grant's Pass had a population of 4,800, yet the Chamber of Commerce revenue was $14,000 annually, business firms contributing up to $50 monthly.

PLEASANT WITH WORK

President David Leeming reported upon the annual meeting of the Puget Sounders and British Columbian Incorporated, which was held in Victoria last week's ago. He declared all delegates had been well pleased with the results of the year's work. With authority had been given the advertising committee in preparation of publicity material.

Much discussion arose when he told of cancellation of the Puget Sounders of the "ask Mr. Foster" publicity service. The organization had been of great value to Victoria and the bureau was considering making a direct contract.

While a Vancouver advertising organization had conducted the Puget Sounders campaign for seven years, the directors had decided to call for bids and sixteen firms had submitted bids.

Mr. Leeming urged every effort be made by the bureau to encourage extension into the northwest of highway advertising.

He believed that the controversy over construction of the West Coast Road north or south of Alberni Canal was unfortunate declaring "we need both."

Mr. Warren announced that Oak Bay Municipality had contributed $500 to the bureau, and Reeve E. C. Hayward, who was present, was warmly thanked.

MANY TREATS FOR ORPHANAGE

Ladies' Committee Reports Many Kindnesses to Children Last Month

Fifty-three children are at present in the Protestant Orphan's Home, according to the report presented at the last meeting of the ladies' committee, held yesterday afternoon, with Mrs. C. H. Walker, the president, in the chair and the following members present: Mesdames L. V. Longstaff, Elliott, Hughes, Raper, Edwards, F. C. Ellingworth, Humphries, Shepherd, Doran, Coutts, Cox, O. M. Brown, Spencer, Simpson, Calvert, Grimison, McFarlane, and Mrs. J. A. Hayward. Mrs. Ware of the Scripture Union gave the children an exhibition of lantern slides, assisted by Miss Sutherland.

The report recorded the generous gift of linoleum for two dormitories, donated by J. A. Hayward. Through the kindness of J. A. Hayward the children enjoyed the Crystal Garden swimming pool. Miss Morley, of the King's Daughters treated Ruth Haynes on her birthday. The children spent a happy Halloween with games. Mrs. Ware of the Scripture Union entertained the children with lantern slides, assisted by Miss Sutherland.

A standing vote of sympathy was extended Mrs. W. S. Fraser and Mrs. W. G. Cameron in their bereavements.

Visiting ladies for November are Mrs. Spencer and Mrs. Grimison.

Does a Woman Run a Risk in Marrying a Man With A Past?—Applying the Love Test—Young Wife Who Would Like to Be Alone With Her Husband

DEAR MISS DIX—We hear a great deal about the risk a man runs when he marries a woman with a past. What about a woman marrying a man with a past?

Answer: She runs a great risk also, but I fear that if women demanded the same spotless records of men as men demand of women, there would be very few wedding bells sounding their merry tocsin.

Morally and logically there is no more reason why the young man should not be as chaste as the young woman he expects to marry, nor why a husband should not be as faithful to his wife as she expects her to be to him. Only it is not that way in real life. It has never been that way, and the chances are that it never will be that way. We will never have a single standard of morals for the two sexes, unless, as I sometimes fear, women lower their standards and accept the standards of men. And when that happens it will be an evil day for the world.

I do not condone loose morals in men. I deplore them with all my heart, and I wish that women had enough backbone to stand up and assert their right to get as good as they give in the matrimonial bargain, and refused to associate with a man who has not lived a clean and decent life.

Perhaps if they did it would work a great reformation, for undoubtedly public opinion is the whip that holds the trembling wretch in order and keeps many a potential sinner walking the straight and narrow path. Humanity, male and female, is all cut off the same bolt of cloth. There are just as many women who are rounders by nature as men, but the knowledge that they would be disgraced, that they would be cut by society, that no man would want to marry them if they yielded to temptation, has made millions of girls go straight.

And it is because people have shrugged their shoulders instead of sending the man to Coventry, because they have shut the door on the woman sinner and invited the man sinner to dinner, that men have followed their bent.

But let no one think that the man who sows his wild oats goes free. Always and inevitably he has to harvest his crop, and he does it with bitterness and tears.

And many a man high placed in the world, famous, rich, envied, lives in covering terror of some evil woman who holds a sword above his head and wrings blood money out of him as the price of her keeping silent about some episode that would disgrace him were it known.

Nor do the men who are faithful to their wives go scot free. Pick up any paper and you can read the story of some middle-aged man who is being blackmailed, or sued for breach of promise, and whose sordid and disgraceful secrets are being dragged out to be jeered at by a public who sees in him a laughing stock, who has been made a fool of by a gold-digger. Many a man's ambitions are wrecked by his affairs with women, and if you will notice you will see that in nine cases out of ten a man's prosperity is built up while he is faithful to his wife and his downfall begins with his philandering.

And men's hearts are wrenched with the breaking up of their homes and by being parted from their children when their unfaithfulness drives their wives to divorce. Nor do these light love affairs bring the men happiness, for when they marry the young and pretty girls they think that they prefer to their old wives, they almost invariably repent it.

For they find that the girls have married them for their money, and having got that they go off to amuse themselves with boys of their own age, and leave the old husbands a prey to jealousies and to the knowledge that is hard to bear, that they have nothing in common with their young wives and that they have thrown away their real happiness in giving up the old wives who loved them for themselves alone, and with whom they had all memories and interests in common.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am about to become engaged to a boy who loves me, but I am doubtful about myself. He is poor and cannot afford a car and to spend money like my girl friends' fellows can, although he makes more than they do, but he has to help his people. I am considerate and do not think him cheap because I know he spends all on me he can afford, but my friends think he is cheap. Can you tell me any way that I can try myself out to see whether I really love him or not before I take the vital step of being engaged to him?

DOUBTFUL

Answer: I don't think you care much for the young man if you let what your friends say about him influence your opinion of him. They call him cheap because he is helping to support his family instead of spending money on a car. I should call him the finest sort of young man, and think any girl was lucky to get him.

At any rate the amount of money that a man spends on a girl is no indication of his character or of his love. It is the way he spends it. If he has plenty of money and never takes a girl out anywhere, or does anything for her pleasure or amusement because he is stingy, then he is cheap. But if he spends on her what he can afford and has the strength of character not to go in debt, and not to spend the money that is needed at home, even in order to win the girl's liking, then he has courage and grit and the stuff in him of which real men are made. That boy will succeed in life and you had better grab him while you have a chance.

The best way you can test your own feeling for him is to see whether you care more for him than you do for the ridicule of odd-pated girls and boys, and to decide whether you are willing to work with him and save with him, or whether you want some man who can give you luxuries to start with. And whether a future looks good to you without cars and good clothes and good times if only it has him in it. If it does, go to it. If it doesn't, tell him so.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—In all the ten months of my married life my husband and I have never been alone together. His father, who is a dear old man, lives with us. I think a great deal of him, but I long to be alone with my husband, even for a few weeks. Before we were married the father lived with an older sister and she wants him back. Do you think it would be wrong of me to tell my husband how I feel? I would be perfectly willing to have the old gentleman part of the time. Is there any solution to my problem?

DESPERATE.

Answer: Telling your husband won't help, because he can't ask his father to leave without hurting the old man's feelings, and he wouldn't do that.

I get many letters like yours that are despairing walls from young people who would be perfectly willing to have their in-laws, or their own parents part of the time, but who also would like to be together a little while, alone with their husbands and wives.

What a pity it is that parents won't settle the problem themselves by realizing this, and tactfully dividing their time among their children, and going off and staying at times with other relatives, or taking trips, or going to summer and winter resorts.

Chaplin Children's Accounts Recorded

Los Angeles, Nov. 4.—An accounting filed in Superior Court yesterday revealed the cost of rearing Charles Chaplin Jr., seven, and Sydney Chaplin, six, sons of Charles Chaplin, film comedian, is decreasing with the years.

Lila Grey Chaplin, their mother and guardian, reported the total expenditure had been $6,005.60 for the last fiscal year. At the time Mrs. Chaplin obtained her divorce from the film comedian three years ago a $500,000 trust fund was established for the care of the children. The accounting also showed $16,722.11 was spent for their education.

Ella Cinders—

A light was extinguished and when it went on again Blackie was missing.....

Oh, Blackie— is it really you? Are you hurt? Can I get you anything?

There is only one way into that room he's in and that's through this secret wall panel— and if it won't work, let's go around the back way and batter in the wall with an axe!

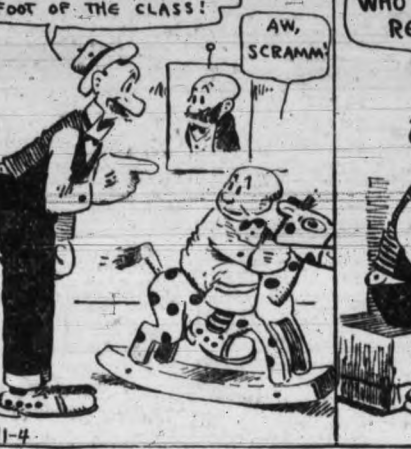

Wait a minute and I'll join you! Blackie, what are you doing here?

Say, what is this? Are we seeing things?

Mutt And Jeff—

Cicero, you stand in school like a mop with a broken handle. Teacher says you are the heel on the foot of the class!

I'll keep you at home and teach you myself! Who was Paul Revere?

M-m: Where are the human brains?

What was Columbus' most famous discovery?

That's for saying Bismarck is a herring— and Napoleon is French pastry!
